Golf isn't your only game of chance for the day!

Not only could you walk away being the golf winner for the day, but how does $2,500 or $1,000 sound? Be sure to take a chance, or several, on the $2,500 Grand Raffle, or the $1,000 prize for your ball being closest to the pin when dropped from the helicopter.

You can also take a chance on other various raffle prizes the day of the golf outing. Tickets for the Grand Raffle and golf balls for the helicopter golf ball drop can be purchased throughout the summer by contacting the Foundation office at (859) 301-3920. You do not need to be present to win.

Grand Raffle — Tickets are $10 each for a chance to win $2,500.

Helicopter Golf Ball Drop — Golf balls are $5 each for a chance to win $1,000.

Raffle Prizes — Tickets are $5 each and only sold the day of the event. Prizes may include golf clubs, a $500 gift card, rounds of golf and some great Cincinnati Reds tickets, just to name a few.

Quick recovery for Ky. man after life-saving scan showed spot on his lung

John Griess, a 66-year-old Bellevue, Ky. resident, had no noticeable symptoms before he was diagnosed with lung cancer early in 2016.

Dr. Royce Calhoun, a thoracic surgeon with St. Elizabeth Edgewood, gave Griess his options.

“He said you can wait and watch for six months for another biopsy or we can take it out now. In six months it could be bigger, so I wanted him to cut that out,” Griess said. “They pulled it out and, sure enough, it was malignant, so we made the right choice.”

Griess’ tumor was removed by Calhoun in April 2016. After four days in the hospital, Griess was back home. A few weeks later, the U.S. Navy veteran was enjoying his favorite pastimes: golfing, singing in his classic rock and roll band, Cosmo’s Factory, and babysitting his grandchildren with his wife.

Griess – who has lived in Kentucky most of his life – was a smoker from his teenage years until age 51, when he had a heart attack and quadruple bypass surgery. He hasn’t smoked since his heart attack 15 years ago.

Eighty-five percent of lung cancer cases are caused by smoking. Calhoun suggests CT screening for lung cancer for anyone who is/was a heavy smoker (a pack per day for 30 years, 2 packs per day for 15 years or the equivalent), is age 55 years or older, a current or former smoker who quit smoking within the last 15 years.

If you meet these criteria and are interested in this screening exam or have questions, please contact your primary physician to get an order. If you don’t have a physician, please visit stelizabeth.com to find a doctor who meets your needs.
