New Program Pilot at Florence: HELP Volunteers Wanted

The AGS CoCare®: Hospital Elder Life Program (HELP) is an innovative model of hospital care designed to prevent delirium and functional decline in hospitalized older adults. HELP uses interdisciplinary staff and volunteers and targeted intervention protocols to improve patients' outcomes and provide cost-effective care.

The primary goals of the program are:

- Maintaining cognitive and physical functioning of high-risk older adults throughout hospitalization.
- Maximizing independence at discharge.
- Assisting with the transition from hospital to home.
- Preventing unplanned hospital readmissions.

If you are interested in volunteering with this pilot program at the Florence hospital, please contact Sammie Heck, Florence Volunteer Coordinator, and she will connect you with the program leaders.

This opportunity is available to any new or current adult/college volunteers. Shifts are once per week for approximately four hours. Additional in-person training required for participation.
